

Neumann Kaffee Gruppe

Present in 26 countries

NKG's business segments along the green coffee value chain:

Farming

NKG owns three farms, producing a wide range of green coffee qualities at over 5,000 hectares of planted area: Finca La Puebla in Mexico, Fazenda da Lagoa in Brazil and Kaweri Coffee Plantation in Uganda. All farms focus on running their operations in an environmentally, socially and economically sustainable manner.

Export & Milling

Our export companies located in most producing countries source the coffee cherries from local farmers or cooperatives, process the coffee in local mills - which are also often run by the local NKG export company - and prepare the green coffee for the export to consuming countries around the globe.

Import (Commercial & Specialty)

Our import companies are based in almost every important coffee consuming country. They buy and distribute coffee from the entire world to all kinds of customers, from the roasting industry to small specialty coffee roasters, and offer many further services such as logistics, quality assurance or product development.

Agents & Representative Offices

Thanks to their experience with the local markets and coffee regions, our Agents and Representative Offices on site help customers to identify potential coffees of interest, coming directly from the respective origin. They connect local producers and suppliers with international buyers.

Services

Our service companies along the supply chain add a lot of value to the green coffee core business. Just to name a few services that are covered: Coffee warehousing and processing, logistics, insurance services, statistics and market research, farm management, milling technology support, or sustainable business models.
